

"A Spirit Filled Church"

Utterance by Pastor Bitely, July 26, 2009

For this is normal in the realm of the Spirit, for My Spirit to move and be in manifestation. There is nothing abnormal about it. It is abnormal that My Spirit doesn't move. For this is the normal procedure. This is the normal way, that a Spirit filled church moves. It is not all moving of the Spirit, but the Spirit is always moving. It can move through the worship. It can move through the Word being read and even being taught. For My Spirit does move that way. But yet, even in the manifestation of the gifts, My Spirit moves. And some would say: Well I have not seen it this way. This is not how they do it where I have been. But I say unto you: For this church, this is absolutely normal. This is the way it is suppose to be. In fact, this is the way it is meant to be in all of My churches. But yet men will not permit My Spirit to have it's full course and it's full reign. For men say no, no. We do not want this. We will handle this area. We don't want things to get out of control. For if we move to much in the things of the Spirit, people will talk and say things that might be derogatory in our thinking. So we will limit what happens. But I say unto you: I look for places where they take the limits off, where they say Holy Spirit go and do whatever and you want. For the Spirit longs to be in a place where there is true freedom. But true freedom is not always found in dancing and shouting, for even some of that it can be merely of the flesh. The freedom of the Spirit is when your heart is open and your mind is open and you will receive the Word, the engrafted Word which is able to save your soul. When you begin to rejoice in your heart and your heart begins to be lifted up, your spirit begins to soar. For it is in these places, saith the Lord, that My greatest work is being done. For I work even in the areas that men can not see, where Doctors and Surgeons can not go. I go in the places where medicine can not reach, where psychology can not correct, but My Spirit goes and My Spirit knows and so even this day and this hour, My Holy Spirit is moving and it is normal and it is natural to be in the supernatural. For I have called you to this. I have prepared you for this. Think of it not strange but rejoice and know that there is much more. There is much more, saith the Lord.
